Your personal data will not be transferred to third parties not mentioned in this document.

Photography/audio-visual digital personal data: images/audio visual material published on ECOBREED official website and social media pages can be viewed throughout the world and not just in the European Union and that some countries may not provide the same level of protection to the rights of individuals as EU legislation provides.

Duration of data processing

We will process your data in accordance with ECOBREED Consortium legal obligations and for so long as you instruct us to do so.

Your rights

You may contact to the coordinator/member organisation of the ECOBREED Consortium (see under Contact section) to exercise any of the rights you are granted under applicable data protection laws (EU General Data Protection Regulation 2016/679 (April 28, 2016) of the European Parliament and of the Council in short GDPR), which includes (1) the right to access your data, (2) to rectify them, (3) to erase them, (4) to restrict the processing of your data, (5) the right to data portability and (6) the right to object to processing.

1. Right of access (according to Article 15 of GDPR)

You may ask us whether or not we process any of your personal data and, if so, receive access to that data in the form of a copy. When complying with an access request, we will also provide you with additional information, such as the purposes of the processing, the categories of personal data concerned as well as any other information necessary for you to exercise the essence of this right.

2. Right to rectification (according to Article 16 of GDPR)

You have the right to have your data rectified in case of inaccuracy or incompleteness. Upon request, we will correct inaccurate personal data about you and, taking into account the purposes of the processing, complete incomplete personal data, which may include the provision of a supplementary statement.

3. Right to erasure (according to Article 17 of GDPR)

You also have the right to have your personal data erased, which means the deletion of your data by us and, where possible, any other controller to whom your data has previously been made public by us. Erasure of your personal data only finds place in certain cases, prescribed by law and listed under article 17 of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR). This includes situations where your personal data are no longer necessary in relation to the initial purposes for which they were processed as well as situations where they were processed unlawfully. Due to the way we maintain certain services, it may take some time before backup copies are erased.

4. Right to restriction of processing (according to Article 18 of GDPR)

You have the right to obtain the restriction of the processing of your personal data, which means that we suspend the processing of your data for a certain period of time. Circumstances which may give rise to this right include situations where the accuracy of your personal data was contested but some time is needed for us to verify their (in)accuracy. This right does not prevent us from continuing to store your personal data. We will inform you before the restriction is lifted.

5. Right to data portability (according to Article 20 of GDPR)

Your right to data portability entails that you may request us to provide you with your personal data in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format and to have such data transmitted directly to another controller, where technically feasible. Upon request and where this is technically feasible, we will transmit your personal data directly to the other controller.

6. Right to object (according to Article 21 of GDPR)

You also have the right to object to the processing of your personal data, which means you may request us to no longer process your personal data. This only applies in case the “legitimate interests” ground (including profiling) constitutes the legal basis for processing (see “Legal basis” above). At any time and free of charge you can object to direct marketing purposes in case your personal data are processed for such purposes, which includes profiling purposes to the extent that it is related to such direct marketing. In case you exercise this right, we will no longer process your personal data for such purposes.

7. Withdraw your consent

You may withdraw your consent at any time by following the specific instructions in relation to the processing for which you provided your consent. In the case of withdrawn please contact to the Coordinator of ECOBREED project.

If you wish a published image removed, the Coordinator of ECOBREED project can be contacted and the image will be removed from the web/social media as soon as possible.

When you would like to exercise your rights, having complains all you have to do is send your request to the event organizer ECOBREED consortium partner.
